THE BICYCLE RACES SATURDAY.

The Capital Bicycle Club Hold Their Second Annual Meet-Brilliant Display of Expert Riding -Extraordinary Good Time Made -The Prizes Awarded.

Although the temperature was warm enough on Saturday evening to cause most people to think longingly of mint juleps and iced desecond annual races of the Capital Bicycle Club, art, Chleago, Before four o'clock Eleventh street, from E to the Avenue, was filled with wheelsmen and their wheels, while a large crowd gathered on the pavements criticising the general appearance of thisto Washingtonians-novel sight. At four o'clock the Arlington Club, under command of their capbain, arrived on the seene, and were ordered to "stack" alongside of the Capitals. The Baltimore club, headed by Captain White, were the | Boston. next to arrive, and elicited considerable applause by their handsome appearance and fine riding. Representatives were also present from the "D. Bi, C. (Detroit, Mich.), and "Hampstend West" (Londoa, England), besides several unattached riders, making a grand total of over eighty wheels in line, a number that has never been exceeded in this four Commander Owen leaped into his saddle and setts, and D. The route was via Pennsylvania avenue, Fifteenth street, Vermont avenue, and P street, to lowa circle, the streets being lined by spectators, who were loud in admiration of the graceful riding. On entering the circle the column rode once round in twos, their perfect wheeling and bright uniforms eliciting rounds of applause from the grand stand. The first event on the programme was an exhibition of fancy riding

> DEST FANCY RIDER IN AMERICA, and truly be seemed to be capable of doing almost anything on his wheel. His most effective trick he kept for the last. Riding along in a very unconcerned manner, he let his handkerchief drop to the ground; in a few minutes he had turned and was riding back to where the bandkerchief lay; then, when he neared it, he dismounted from his machine while in motion, picked it up, regained his machine, and continued on his course. The one-mile race, open to all brought the following field: Schooley, Borden, Stewart. Start was from the scratch, and all got away well together, Borden taking the lead, and keeping it to the end of the first quarter. On the second quarter Schooley spurted and wentahead, and maintained this position to the finish. Stewart drew ahead on the third quarter, and came in second. Time: Schooley, 3:141/4; Stewart, 3:111/4. The quarter of a mile dash, open to club members only, was the next event, flying start and run singly. Coyle was the first champion to enter the lists, and his time was announced as 46 a seconds. Seely followed him, and made it in 43% seconds. Cook did the trick with his little " Harvard " in 431/4. On the first quarter of the second mile Smith captured the lead by a very pretty spurt, and was loudly cheered, Borden closely following. Coyle found the pace a trifle too warm, and dropped out. Borden took the lead and kept t for the third infle, Smith holding him well in hand, Fowler riding in good form, bringing up the rear. On the fourth mile Smith again went to the front, and this time evidently intended to stay there, as he increased the distance between himself and Borden. Again and again was seen the red favor (Smith) in front, green (Borden) always following closely, and it was generally believed that Smith would be declared winner. On entering the fifth and last mile, Smith, still leading, slipped his saddle and had to retire, having had the prize almost within his grasp. Borden came in first, with Fowler a good second. Following is the official time of each mile: First mile, 3m. 40s.; second mile, 7m, 21/9s.; third mile, 11m, 15s.; fourth mile, 11m, 551/48.; fifth mile, 18m. 423/48. The fifth race was for members of the Capital Bicycle Club only; start from scratch. They drew for positions as follows: Fowler, pole; Seeley, two, and Cook outside. The start was a fine one, Cook showing his heels very quickly; Seeley had dropped to the rear, but put on a spurt and took the lead. Cook. however, quickly picked him up and maintained his lead to the finish, Seeley pressing him hard. Time: Cook, 3:201/2; Seeley, 3:201/4; Fowler, 3:341/4. The last event on the card was the

MOST EXCITING OF THE WHOLE CONTEST, was a three-mile race, open to all. Smith won the favorite position, Stewart number two, with Schooley on the outside. When the flag dropped all got away together, Smith spurted to the head, closely followed by Schooley and Stewart, with very little rope between either of them. Stewart rode in magnificent form and kept himself well in hand. For ten rounds were these positions kept. At the commencement of the eleventh Stewart let himself out and rushed to the front, making the three miles in 10:0%, Schooley coming in some thirty feet behind. The last mile was rode in nearly three minutes, making it one of the fastest miles ever ran in this country, although it was the last of a three-mile race. Smith met with an accident to his machine and had to drop out. Mention must be made of

T. Moore and wife, and others too numerous to mention. Indeed, the entire church, old and young. seemed to vie with each other in contributting to the comfort of all the guests. Among the many were Dr. Corrie and daughter, Mr. Summy and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Roose, and their son Willie, who very gallantly "fanned" the whole party. Upon arriving at the Point some of the excursionists landed, prepared for picnicking, but their host, Mr. Charles Haffeck, had anticipated their wants by providing fried spring chickens, fish, oysters, boats, and bathing conveniences gratuitous. The man seemed almost omnipresent. For only one day for preparation it is almost incredible to see how much he accomplished. THE DISPUTED TROPHY.

Let the Match Be Shot Over Again-How the Question Can Be Settled. Mr. George W. Evans, of the National Rifles, in a communication to THE REPUBLICAN in reference to the recent match at Glymont, says: 'The statement published in a Sunday paper vesterday relative to the rifle-match at Glymont on the 15th instant greatly misrepresents the facts in the case. The match, as announced, was to be shot under the rules of the National Rifle Association. All the military companies that entered and judge will meet this evening to prepare the question for submission to the Rifle Association. The 'resolve of the Rifles' was not 'premature:' nor has a majority of the referees or a single one of the same made a decision in the matter. If so, said decision was not made at the meeting after the contest. The least said about 'professed rifle-shots' of the first order' end 'poor, simple antateurs' is best for the instruction of the Rifles are as unused to off-hand entire team of the Rifles are as unused to off-hand later team of the Rifles are as unused to off-hand lat entire team of the Rifles are as unused to off-hand two-hundred-yard rifle shooting as that of the Washington Light Infantry Corps, and have had no more practice. The score made the other day will attest the correctness of this statement. The Wimbledon Cup was not won in England by a member of our team. It was won at Creedmoor, and in an entirely different way of shooting than that of off-hand, two hundred yards. In conclusion, allow me to say that, while we are willing to the prize. We hope it will be shot for again. If ; not for this, then for some other prize that may be satisfactory to the gentlemen of the Washington Light Infantry Corps Team. There is no unfriendly feeling between the rival teams. If so, the National Rifles are not a party to it."

> United States Marshal Longstreet. General Longstreet left for Atlanta, Ga., on Saturday evening. Before leaving the city he had a long interview with the Attorney-General in regard to the general policy to be adopted in the administration of the Georgia marshalship especially in the matter of co-operating with the internal revenue officials in operating against the illicit distillers in the northern portion of the State. As soon as he has executed his official bone and assumed the duties of his office, it is expected that Marshal Longstreet will, in connection with the collector of internal revenue for the northern district of Georgia, inaugurate a campaign against the "moonshiners" that will go far toward breaking up the operations of these violators of the law and materially add to the revenues of the Govern-
